JOHN W. MASTERS KENTUCKY EVANGEL SPEAKS ON HEART- FELT RELIGION

PUTS GREAT TRUTHS OF THE
BIBLE IN STRIKING MANNER TO GREAT AUDIENCE.

"SCRAP READING" IS SCORED

DECLARES GOD DOES NOT FORCE
MEN TO GOOD LIVES, BUT THOUGHT OF RE-PENTANCE.

John W. Masters, the Kentucky evangelist who is leading a revival meeting at the First Christian church, yesterday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock spoke on "Heartfelt Religion" at the interdenominational tent at the corner of Fourth street and Fifth avenue, south.
Mr. Masters had visited the Twin Cities previously and made many warm friends. In his work this time he has redemonstrated his ability to put the truth in a striking manner. He does not appear to be a man of the schools, but for virility of intellect and down-right mental power he has scarcely an equal.
The text yesterday was the well-known scripture: "From the fulness of the heart the mouth speaketh." In the outset the minister warned against what he termed "scrap reading" the Bible. He said by such a method the devil could quote scripture to his advantage. He convulsed his audience with laughter when he told the story of the preacher who tried to make the women reduce the hair top-knots that were stylish some years ago. "He did not succeed," said Mr. Masters, "until he drew the scripture on them. But he had to 'scrap read' to carry his point. The preacher in question cut square in the two sentence, 'let those that are on the house top not come down,' found in St. Matthew, and quoting 'top-knot come down.'"
Divisions of the Sermon.
"Heartfelt religion," said the speaker, "is not a scriptural expression, though I find no fault with it. The Bible speaks of religion as the love of God spread abroad in the heart. What is the heart? Let us turn to the scripture. Where a man's treasure is there his heart is also. From this we must infer that in the Bible sense heart does not mean the fleshy part of our bodies. Other places in the Bible mention the self and the heart being in different places. Ecclesiastes says the heart of the foolish is in the heart of mirth but the heart of the wise is in the house of mourning. For definition of heart we must say that it refers to the mentality, the affections and in fact the whole personality of an individual.
The Physical Organ.
"Now if heart meant a physical organ there is no immortality, for our bodies decay, falter and finally fall away from us. They are simply the engines of the soul. A mere heart could not be spoken of as good or bad, but the Psalmist speaks of the heart of man being prone to evil as the sparks fly upward and desperately wicked. It is the people that love crime or sin and wickedness. Out of the abundance of the heart the mouth speaketh. I once rode with a man who could talk of nothing but the buying and selling of rules. If your heart is full of money-making you will talk about money. If it is of business you will talk about business. God warns us that prayer should be the subject of our heart's meditations.
Exercises of the Thought.
"It is only as we meditate on our lost and ruined condition that we are brought to Christ," continued Mr. Masters. "This statement is simply borne out in the scriptures. For instance, we read, 'come let us reason together,' though your sins be as scarlet they shall be as white as snow."
In this connection the preacher took issue with those who taught that God followed up people and forced them to a religious life. He told the story of a speaker who declared that God only won a man after having taken on his wife, his child and finally breaking the man's arm. Mr. Masters said that he couldn't respect a God that was that foolish and he

WANTS BLOCKADE REMOVED
HOWEVER, THE INDICATIONS ARE THAT IT WILL ONLY BE TIGHTENED.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Oct. 2.—Germany's resumption of submarine warfare likely will be deferred some months yet.

That it is inevitable, diplomatic circles here know. But it will be preceded by renewed diplomatic negotiations, and Germany again will ask this government to use its good offices to secure concessions from the entente.

Such an appeal, however, will be useless. It has been made very plain to American diplomats in London, Paris and Petrograd that the entente has decided that with the coming of the winter months the German blockade is to be tightened.
At certain points an absolute instead of a technical blockade will be made, and the effort must be an increase of the bitter feeling in Germany and further encouragement to all who could "use every weapon" in retaliation against the nation's enemies.
Ambassador Gerard will explain the exact situation when he reaches Washington. He will make it plain to Secretary Lansing and President Wilson that the doctrine of stoppage, visit and search are being lived up to at present, but he will present figures to show that these pledges are considered in German official circles as contingent upon England modifying her holding up of German-bound foodstuffs through neutral ports.
The British blockade is considered by many German officials to have already relieved Germany of her promises.

Nation-Wide Fight
Against High Prices
United States Chamber of Commerce
Will Take Lead in Movement.

(International News Service.)
Washington, Oct. 2.—A nation-wide fight to combat the increased cost of living, particularly the advance of bread prices, was organized here today. The plan was initiated by the local chamber of commerce and will be developed by the nation-wide organizations of the chamber of commerce.

It is expected that chambers of commerce in every state in the country will join in the movement, which will take the form of an embargo on the exportation of wheat and other foodstuffs.

ALBANY ALSO SUFFELS FROM

(International News Service.)
New York, Oct. 2.—Just before the meeting here today of labor leaders to act on the sympathetic strike movement it was generally believed that the walkout in behalf of the traction men would be declared off.
The attempt to tie up New York industrially has proved a complete failure, although some of the more radical strike leaders still hoped that developments would take a turn this week to help them out.

Albany, N. Y., Oct. 2.—Traffic on the Albany and Rennselaer trolley lines and the Troy interurban line was at a standstill today, the result of a strike of about 1,000 men, including power house employees and other workers.

NORMAL SERVICE IS

He has been for some years with the telephone company at Decatur.

Mrs. Will R. Nelson is promoted to collecting teller of the Albany office and deserves recognition for exceptional work done in the Decatur office at which office she has been employed several years.

Mr. Smith will devote his entire time to the handling of the long distance traffic, which at this season of the year is of considerable importance.

Fair Opens Tomorrow at Athens, Alabama

The Limestone county fair opens on tomorrow, Oct. 3 and will continue through Oct. 4, 5 and 6. That fair is regarded as the banner one of North Alabama, each succeeding year sustaining its reputation by giving a better fair than that of the preceding year, to which no doubt this one will be no exception. Races, exhibits, fine cattle, good music and attractive shows will be a part of the good things you may enjoy when visiting the fair at Athens during this week.

(International News Service.)
London, Oct. 2.—The Kaleropoliour cabinet has resigned and Greece faces a new ministerial crisis, according to dispatches from Athens. Official quarters here confidently expect Greek intervention on the side of the entente will follow soon.
Ex-Premier Venizelos again looms as the only possible successor to the retiring premier, as he is the only one the entente ministers seem willing to recognize.
Revolt is spreading throughout the Hellenic kingdom and the allied blockade is being steadily tightened. King Constantine, the dispatches from Athens indicate, faces the alternative of appointing Venizelos premier or abdicating.

(International News Service.)
London, Oct. 2.—Renewing his drive in Galicia, Gen. Brusiloff, the Russian commander-in-chief, is once more thrusting in the direction of Lemburg.
The resumption of Russian pressure in Galicia has come simultaneously with the news of a big engagement in Transylvania, where the Germans under Gen. Von Falkenhayn claim to have won a victory over the Roumanian first army.
Nearly 5,000 Austro-German prisoners have been taken by the Russians in the early stages of the fighting in Galicia, while the Germans report the capture of about 3,000 men in the Transylvanian theatre of hostilities.
With the latest capture the Russian total prisoners taken in the offensive movement now approximate 430,000 men.

GREEK CABINET POSITION.
(International News Service.)
Paris, Oct. 2.—Official dispatches from the French legation at Athens concerning King Constantine's change of attitude toward the allies were hourly expected today.

The recent trend of events in Greece indicate that a Nationalist cabinet may be formed and that M. Venizelos, leader of the pro-entente party, probably will be offered the post of foreign minister.

Two Bremens Are Taken, Says Belgian Captain, Now in U. S.

(International News Service.)
Galveston, Oct. 2.—French and British warships have captured two German merchant submarines, according to Capt. Van Shoonbeck, of the Belgian steamer Van Belgie, which arrived here today. Later the French took another submarine named Bremen. He declined to divulge the name of the port.

WHILE TRYING TO SHOOT DOG, LEON WADE ACCIDENTALLY KILLED M'KELVEY

MOULTON FARMER IS PIERCED THROUGH AND THROUGH BY BULLET FROM REVOLVER.

OCCURRED SUNDAY MORNING

DEAD MAN WAS RELATED TO J. V.
MURPHREE OF FAIRVIEW, WHO ATTENDED FUNERAL.

(Special to The Daily.)
Moulton, Ala., Oct. 2.—Ed McKelvey, aged 26 years, was shot and instantly killed Sunday morning about 2 o'clock by Leon Wade, aged 20, as they were returning from Albany-Decatur, where they had driven in a buggy. The shooting was accidental, according to Wade.
The two men were about one and a half miles out from Moulton, Mr. Wade stated, when a dog crossed their path. A 38 calibre revolver was lying on the seat of the buggy between the two men, and Wade attempted to shoot the dog. In some manner the weapon was discharged, the bullet entering McKelvey's left side under the arm and coming out on the opposite side of the body. McKelvey died instantly.
Funeral services for the deceased were held here Sunday afternoon, being in charge of the Woodmen, Elder Harris, of the Florence Christian church, who is conducting a revival here, officiating.
Both Wade and McKelvey resided near Moulton, and both were engaged in farming. They were good friends, and Wade is deeply grieved at the tragedy. He was not arrested. Ed McKelvey was the son of Fletcher McKelvey and a brother of Officer McKelvey of the local police force.
Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Murphree, of Fairview, relatives of Mr. McKelvey, were notified of his death, and drove to Moulton Sunday to attend the funeral services. Mr. McKelvey also had other relatives in the Twin Cities.

MCKELVEY'S BROTHER IS INJURED BY SAME HORSE.
Lynch McKelvey, marshal of Moulton and brother of the man who was accidentally killed Sunday morning, was thrown from the same buggy in which his brother had been riding and was painfully injured, according to information brought here today by John E. Jacobs, of Red Hill.
"After the remains of Ed McKelvey had reached Moulton," said Mr. Jacobs, "they were carried to the home of his brother, Lynch McKelvey, who shortly afterwards jumped into the buggy and drove to notify his bereaved parents of the loss of their son. The horse became frightened, ran away and threw Mr. McKelvey into a barbed wire fence. He was only painfully injured, however."
Mr. Jacobs also gave additional details of the killing. He stated that according to the best information that could be obtained, McKelvey and Wade both reached for their guns at the same time to shoot at the dog. McKelvey leaned forward to get his revolver from under the seat, and Wade evidently attempted to fire behind him. McKelvey was driving and the dog was on the right hand side of the road. The horse lunged just as Wade fired, and McKelvey straightened up in his seat and received the bullet in his side. The horse then ran, and when he was finally checked in his mad dash McKelvey was found to be dead. Before dying, McKelvey had stated, "I shot myself," Wade stated, but investigation showed that he was mistaken, as his pistol was fully loaded.

Lynch McKelvey was recently wounded in a pistol duel at Moulton during which he shot his antagonist four times, while attempting to make an arrest.

WHAT DOES MR. ROOSEVELT MEAN BY "MEANINGLESS PHRASEMONGERY?"

That distinguished disturber of the torrid atmosphere—Theodore Roosevelt—in his address at Battle Creek, Michigan, on Saturday, is quoted with this absurd statement: "Repudiate Wilson and thereby gain a substitution of actions for a meaningless phrasemongery."

What does Mr. Roosevelt mean by "meaningless phrasemongery?"

Does he mean that it is an offense for the president of the United States to be able to clothe his thoughts with faultless verbiage and perfect diction?

Does he mean that limping rhetoric and disabled English should be the medium of expression used by the nation's chief executive?

Does he mean that his own phrasemongery is not "meaningless?"

Evidently he means all these things, for certainly Mr. Roosevelt could not hope to be able to convince the voting public that Mr. Wilson is not a man of action.

Who fathered and secured the passage of more progressive legislation than Roosevelt ever hoped to see enacted into law?

Woodrow Wilson.

Who put our currency system on a sound and substantial basis by a federal reserve act?

Woodrow Wilson.

Who fought to the last ditch for a child labor law?

Woodrow Wilson.

Who stood squarely behind a workman's compensation law?

Woodrow Wilson.

Who benefitted the farmer by establishing land banks?

Woodrow Wilson.

Who placed America on a proper footing of national defense after fifty years of republican misrule had left it at the mercy of any enemy?

Woodrow Wilson.

Who stood sponsor for the building of the Alaskan railway, for the acquisition of the Danish West Indies for the establishing of an American merchant marine, for the building of a government nitrate plant and an armor plate plant?

Woodrow Wilson.

Who defied congress and by the mere magic of his personality forced the Kaiser to respect American rights on the high seas?

Woodrow Wilson.

Who settled the threatened railroad strike, after all others had failed?

Woodrow Wilson.

Who gave to "Americanism" a definition befitting the traditions of this great country?

Woodrow Wilson.

And yet, Theodore Roosevelt, a mountebank and fakir, a cheap politician and a word juggler, had the audacity to talk of a "substitution of actions for meaningless phrasemongery."

If President Wilson is not a man of action, neither is Theodore a man of words.

Again we inquire:

What does Mr. Roosevelt mean by "meaningless phrasemongery?"

In the retirement of T. H. Mattocks from active business, a most valuable merchant, is lost to the commercial life of these cities. During the twenty-seven years of his business life he has contributed in many ways to the substantial growth of commerce and in many ways been a factor of force and stability in the onward march. It is to be hoped that he will not remain in retirement, but will lend his ability and means in any direction he may elect to continue to promote the interest of our cities and people. He is recognized as a fair and square man and, this, coupled with his prominence in financial affairs, renders him a factor and bulwark of strength in this community. As a Mason Mr. Mattocks has reached a high rank, being Past Grand Commander of the Grand Commandery of Knights Templar of Alabama.

We now learn that Mr. Hughes is a born dissenter. He killed 248 of 448 bills once passed by the New York legislature.

26 Americans Are in Jail, Following Riots in Nogales

(International News Service.)

El Paso, Oct. 2.—Reports reaching here today from Nogales, Ariz., stated that 26 American soldiers and truck drivers are being held prisoners at the Mexican jail in Nogales, Sonora, just across the border, following several riots between Americans and Mexicans. The rioting was started by the shooting of Capt. H. W. Wilson an Idaho guardsman, late yesterday according to reports.

The jailing of the twenty-six soldiers and truck drivers was reported by one of the drivers who escaped after being severely beaten. The Mexican officials acknowledged the shooting of Captain Wilson in an official statement today, but said it was accidental. A guard had shot at an escaping prisoner and hit the officer, they said. Wilson is not seriously wounded.

OPTIMISM THAT COUNTS.

Optimism is the finest weapon in the armory of the individual. It unifies all the aggressive, undaunted virtues of his strength into a force and an inspiration. It means seeking the best, living the best, doing the best. It means focussing all that is highest in our character to meet conditions.

Optimism is the sunshine of the soul, radiated in action. It is true religion as a living, compelling fact, not a mere theory.

MILKMEN STRIKE AND LACTEAL FLUID IS NOW A VERY SCARCE ARTICLE.

(International News Service.)
New York, Oct. 2.—Thousands of New Yorkers waited vainly for the milk man today. Many thousand more will be milkless tomorrow. By Thursday the supply for Greater New York will suffice only for infants and sick, according to present indications.

The farmers' milk strike is on in earnest and their power of curtailing this city's milk supply already is making itself felt.

The New York milk concerns stick to their assertion that it will be "a fight to the finish."

States Attorney Woodbury is looked upon by the dealers as a possible arbiter of the trouble.

WM. E. SKEGGS,
S 18-25 O-2. Judge of Probate
Morgan Co., Ala.

John W. Masters, Kentucky Evangelist

thought God would have known better than to have broken the man's arm first rather than taking the lives of his loved ones first. "Paul declares that we are led to repentance by the goodness of God," said Mr. Masters. "Now why are not all then led to repentance? I will illustrate to you. Does not the bawlder on the mountain side receive the same treatment from the air, the sunshine and the rain as does the soil at its side? Certainly. The secret is the soil lets in the life giving elements while the rock sheds them off. We must let thoughts of repentance, of God's love and God's mercy permeate us if we are ever to reach the delectable mountains."

Another Pleasantry.

"Some people say that the Campbellites teach that water baptism washes away the sins. If they do I don't care; in fact, I never heard any Campbellites preach, but the doctrine is not true at any rate. The Bible teaches that by faith ye are saved and that not of your selves."

In this connection the speaker turned aside long enough, however, to insist on the essentiality of water baptism. Said the speaker: "It stands forever between faith and salvation and it will stand there until the great orb of the day pales away and the queen of the night is turned into blood, this great doctrine will still abide.

"Finally, brethren," said the preacher, "the heart believes, thinks, meditates, loves and obeys." This proposition was supported by numerous quotations. In his closing remarks the speaker quoted from one of Benjamin Franklin's stories that proved to be very similar to the story of the prodigal son contained in the Bible. And it was on this story that the preacher made his final appeal to the audience to accept Christ and His blood which he said cleanses from all unrighteousness.
